AFTER COOKING TECHNO MEETS GARBAGE LIVE

After Cooking started as a street drummer playing on pans and buckets in 2017.

Since 2020 he added a lot of microphones, taught himself how to use live DJ tools and went from the streets to the stage: A live performance that sounds like electronic music, but is completely made out of (yes literally) garbage.

After some sold out shows in 2024, After Cooking is ready for his first big Europe Tour.
